MCKAY CONANT HOOVER INC
Acoustics and Media Systems Consultants

Reliance Mediaworks Ltd and Dreamworks SKG have developed as of January 2011, the very first "Hollywood Quality" Studio operations in India. These feature 8 sound stages on 7 acres of 200,000sf construction and provide a comprehensive resource for feature films, television commercials, music videos, new media, gaming, special effects and special events. The $22M facilities are expected to help grow RMW's current 25% of the Mumbai film market share. They are the first studios in India to have advanced technological features such as super silent Sync Sound, 55 feet clear interior height, enormous live load bearing capacities and elephant doors allowing full truck access onto the stages.

Along with the studio infrastructure, Reliance Mediaworks also offers end to end production services such as film cameras, multicam equipment automated lights and LED walls for broadcast shows and events. The studios also provide state-of-the-art post production facilities for feature films, broadcast and TV commercials making it a one-stop solution. MCH provided full-scope acoustical consulting from planning through construction administration.
